

Extricom Extrusion GmbH is part of the CPM Process Solutions Group with locations in Europe, the USA and China. We develop and manufacture RingExtruders, twin screw extruders, compounding systems and produce spare parts for extruders.

As part of the global sales support team, the Proposal Engineer will work and coordinate within a team selling model, with support from Sales Managers and Technical Sales Managers, to prepare customer proposals focusing on technical process solutions along with maintaining cost base information.

Proposal Engineer (M/F/D)

Your function:

As our Proposal Engineer you provide internal sales support by:

- Working with the sales team on proposal scope of supply
- Assisting with and/or preparing written proposals and calculation sheets
- Create process flow diagrams, equipment general layout drawings, in AutoCAD mechanical and Microsoft Visio
- Managing priorities together with the commercial team and the operational team
- Gathering costs for projects; work with supply chain & procurement area for cost analysis
- Preparing risk assessments, both financial and hazard analysis
- Gathering detailed equipment reference drawings, ROI calculation sheets for proposals
- Perform various engineering calculations and analyses related to process design and equipment sizing and selection
- Create SAP quotations, and purchase requisitions according to the procedures as assigned

Your profile:

- Bachelor's degree in Process or Mechanical Engineering recommended.
- Establish and maintain effective working relationships with co-workers, customers, and vendors.
- Strong communication, organization, and interpersonal skills.
- Customer-centric mindset and relations skills.
- Respond to requests and inquires from internal and external customers.
- Understand and carry out technical instructions.
- Ability to plan, produce and deliver compliant proposals within timescale.
- Strong mechanical aptitude.
- Aptitude with computers and applications, such as AutoCAD Mechanical, AutoCAD Inventor, Microsoft Visio, Share Point and Microsoft Office
- SAP and CRM (Salesforce) experience a plus
- Experience with Python or SQL a plus

Our Offer:

We offer you an exciting and varied opportunity in an ambitious working environment and an attractive compensation. You can work with a high degree of personal responsibility and you can expect a futureproof position in an innovative company.

Extricom encourages an open dialogue and transparency. We actively advocate diversity, create the necessary framework conditions for it and commit ourselves to promoting all forms of diversity. We are convinced that the best results are achieved with mixed teams and that equal opportunities are a matter of course.

Are you the one we are looking for?

If you do want to be part of our team, do not hesitate and let us know why! Contact our HR department today and send us your complete application with your salary expectations to jobs.extricom@cpm.net.

Additionally, you can voluntarily send along with it a signed applicants' declaration of consent, if you wish for Extricom Extrusion GmbH to store your applicant data beyond the data storage period of 4 months in case there is a suitable vacancy and a new application process or the existing one is continued. Find under:

<https://extricomextrusion.com/wpcontent/uploads/2020/09/Einwilligung-Bewerber-mit-Transparenzerklärung.pdf> .